Police Seek the Public's Help Solving Trenton Woman's Murder

On November 29, 2006, the body of 28-year-old Kirston Greenwood was found at a construction site off of Old York Road in Hamilton. The young woman from Trenton had been shot multiple times in the torso.

Four years later, police continue to search for leads and are asking for the public's assistance in solving her murder.

Investigators believe the victim was killed at some point between the time when construction workers left the site at the end of the work day, Tuesday, and when workers arrived Wednesday morning. Her body was found in front of a piece of construction equipment around 7 a.m. by a construction worker at the site.

The case is being investigated by Detective Len Gadsby of the Hamilton Police Division and Detective Robert Crusen of the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office.

Crime Stoppers of Greater Trenton is offering a reward of up to $1,000 cash for information leading to the arrest of the person(s) responsible. Tips must be called into the Crime Stoppers tip line at 609.278.8477.
